GJ REPORT

JAMMU, FEB 27: The Indian Institute of Management (IIM) Jammu today successfully concluded the third installment of its flagship event, the Leadership Summit, a two-day grand event from 26th-27th Feb 2022, with many thought-provoking sessions by the global heavyweights from industry, government, and other walks of life.

The main theme for this year is centered around "Leadership next for Atmanirbhar Bharat", with the primary focus on self-reliance, self-sustenance, adopted by the Government of India and making India a part of the global economy.

Prof. B.S. Sahay, Director, IIM Jammu was the Chair of the Summit, Dr. Muqbil Burhan, was the Programme Chair and Dr. Prateek Jain was the Programme Co-Chair of the event.

On day two of the 'Leadership Summit 3.0', Papiya Banerjee, Co-founder, Unqbe, and Kailash Kulkarni, CEO, L&T Mutual Funds, spoke on the theme, "Gig Economy: Unlocking the Potential of an Independent Indian Workforce". Banerjee began the discussion by mentioning the main drivers of the gig economy, transformation in the core of technology, changing scenarios, and change of perception towards work among people during the ongoing pandemic. She believed that despite the pandemic, remote work was in full swing, there was no lag in the efficiency and overall functioning. Moreover, the economy is more reliant on gig workers now, and the risk-taking appetite has increased since the entrepreneurial DNA is gaining momentum.

Rajashree Natarajan, CEO, Cognizant Foundation, spoke on the topic "Forging an emerging leader: disrupting the status quo", was the next guest in the panel. She laid the foundation of this discussion by giving an overview of her background and her illustrious journey.

The Founder-CEO of OYO Rooms and winner of the Business World Young Entrepreneur Award, Ritesh Agarwal graced the event with his virtual presence.

JAMMU: Indian Institute of Management (IIM) Jammu successfully concluded the third installment of its flagship event, the Leadership Summit, a two-day grand event from 26th-27th Feb 2022, with many thought-provoking sessions by the global heavyweights from industry, government, and other walks of life. The main theme for this year is centered around "Leadership next for Atmanirbhar Bharat", with the primary focus on self-reliance, self-sustenance, adopted by the Government of India and making India a part of the global economy. Prof. B.S. Sahay, Director, IIM Jammu was the Chair of the Summit, Dr. Muqbil Burhan, was the Program Chair, and Dr. Prateek Jain was the Program Co-Chair of the event.

On day two of Leadership Summit 3.0, Papiya Banerjee, Co-founder, Un-qle, and Kailash Kulkarni, CEO, L&T Mutual Funds, spoke on the theme, "Gig Economy: Unlocking the Potential of an Independent Indian Workforce". Ms. Banerjee began the discussion by mentioning the main drivers of the gig economy, transformation in the core of technology, changing scenarios, and change of perception towards work among people during the ongoing pandemic. She believed that despite the pandemic, remote work was in full swing, there was no lag in the efficiency and overall functioning. Moreover, the economy is more reliant on gig workers now, and the risk-taking appetite has increased since the entrepreneurial DNA is gaining momentum. Taking the discussion further, Kulkarni spoke about the dependence of digitization on the growth of the gig economy. He stated that a large no. people have developed a quest for learning, and there is a whole gamut of people who are now open to working as freelancers or have taken the entrepreneurial path by creating their own start-ups. According to him, passion was something that should always be pursued. The two most crucial aspects for success are diligence and the process of learning and unlearning.

Rajashree Natarajan, CEO, Cognizant Foundation, spoke on the topic "Forging an emerging leader: disrupting the status quo", was the next guest in the panel. She laid the foundation of this discussion by giving an overview of her background and her illustrious journey. Taking the segment forward, she then cited the need to try new things, be inquisitive, and the need to bring in a change in mindset in order to drive major reforms. According to her, the youth are more flexible nowadays and ready to break the conventional stereotypes. She also urged the youngsters to take risks and embrace change. Apart from this, she also talked about how women, although underrepresented, are gradually taking up leadership roles by constantly striving to shun unconscious bias and inculcating the right teachings from the beginning. She also mentioned that more and more women should come forward, motivate and support women for creating role models amongst themselves and thereby driving growth and development.

The Founder-CEO of OYO Rooms and winner of the Business World Young Entrepreneur Award, Ritesh Agarwal graced the event with his virtual presence. He advised the students to take bigger leaps ahead of themselves and not hesitate to try by pursuing new business opportunities. Further, he asked potential entrepreneurs to spend time directly with customers and learn from them. Agarwal used real-life examples from his life and shared valuable experiences with the audience, motivating them to become entrepreneurs and become job-creators.

In the panel discussion, the institute got an opportunity to host esteemed visionaries such as Mr. Ranjan Thakur, Principal Secretary, Dept. of Industries and Commerce, J&K, and Vanitha Datla, Vice-Chairperson & MD, Elico Ltd.

who spoke on the topic "Unlocking the potential of J & K". Ranjan Thakur mentioned that transformation has to be a rapid process, it needs to dismantle the entire regime in order to bring real change. According to him, everyone amongst us should have the commitment to drive the change on all fronts as India is a young nation and it needs to keep changing with time. He also gave an overview on the various reforms by the Central Govt for the state of J & K, increased flight connectivity, various collaborations, and giving more impetus to exports from the state. He also gave a detailed insight into the overall transformation of governance and switching over to e-governance during the past year.

Vanitha Datla, Vice-Chairperson & MD, Elico Ltd., spoke about the critical issues faced by the nation comprising of low labor rate despite having skilled homemakers. According to her, the female force is on a decline in India since 2005 and stressed the importance of females and allowing them to develop. She urged everyone to invest in infrastructure and the creation of gender equality for sustainable development. She stressed the need for actions that automatically lead to parity and in turn claim their right to a position in society. Needless to mention, there is a strong need for us to work assiduously on providing gender parity. She also gave an insight into the six-ups of leadership.

In his valedictory address, Professor B.S. Sahay, Director, IIM Jammu, motivated students to pursue entrepreneurship and highlighted that IIM Jammu is committed to promoting entrepreneurship as its core subject. Professor Sahay also mentioned that it is better to be a job creator rather than being a job seeker. He further urged the students to believe in themselves, as they have all the potential and capability to reach their goals by staying focused. He assured all possible support from the Institute on all fronts. He thanked all the speakers for their valuable time and the insights they shared with the students. He lauded the team of faculty members and students for the successful completion of the event.

Aimed At 'Atmanirbhar Bharat', IIM Holds Global Leadership Summit In Jammu

A two-day summit at IIM Jammu was attended by global heavyweights from industry, government, and other walks of life to provide students with immense exposure.

Written By Gursimran Singh

With an aim to provide the students with a global platform, the Indian Institute of Management (IIM) held a two-day long Global Leadership Summit in Jammu. The two-day summit was attended by global heavyweights from industry, government, and other walks of life to provide the students with an opportunity of exposure to robust policies that are vital to creating 'Atmanirbhar Bharat'.

Professor BS Sahay, Director, IIM Jammu emphasised the need to have great leaders at the helm in order to make the country self-reliant. "The shortage of PPE kits at the onset of the pandemic, and how the country persisted and not just met its own demand but also became a global exporter in such a short interval of time. We need to become job-creators rather than be job seekers and lauded how the number of "Unicorns" in India has substantially increased over the past year," he added.

In the first panel discussion, the institute got an opportunity to host esteemed visionaries who talked about "The Great Reset: Navigating through disruptions at the workplace." Kris Gopalakrishnan, Co-founder, of Infosys, kick-started the session by reminding me of the growing uncertainties in the corporate world and how the industries need to take advantage of emerging opportunities and continue to evolve with the changing environment.

Anil Kaul, Managing Director, Tata, Capital Housing Finance, talked at length about the evolved expectations of customers and the increased importance of innovation in the workplace. JB Singh, President, and CEO, Interglobe Hotels, led the discussion by providing insights on the various business models and changing customer preferences in the challenging business environment. He reiterated the need for all the leaders to slow down and embrace the uncertainty

Dr Kiran Bedi, Former Lieutenant Governor of Puducherry and the First Woman IPS Officer graced the event with her virtual presence and addressed the audience with her inspiring words. She highlighted the significance of having a disciplined routine and a healthy schedule in life to empower oneself and emphasized the power of "We" over "Me,". She further stressed the need of working as a team, in all walks of life.

Ms Deepika Kumari, Professional Archer, Padmashri, and Arjuna Awardee graced the Leadership Summit panel and provided detailed insights into the theme, "Envision, Empower and Exceed". She began the discussion by speaking on her overall journey, success, and growth in all phases of life. Elaborating it further, she emphasized the cruciality of tough circumstances and the detrimental effects of being in comfort zones.

The Founder-CEO of OYO Rooms and winner of the Business World Young Entrepreneur Award, Ritesh Agarwal advised the students to take bigger leads ahead of themselves and not hesitate to try by pursuing new business opportunities. Further, he asked potential entrepreneurs to spend time directly with customers and learn from them.

Ranjan Thakur, Principal Secretary, Dept. of Industries and Commerce, J&K, and Ms Vanitha Datla, Vice-Chairperson & MD, Elico Ltd. mentioned that transformation has to be a rapid process, it needs to dismantle the entire regime in order to bring real change. According to him, everyone amongst us should have the commitment to drive the change on all fronts as India is a young nation and it needs to keep changing with time.
